TALLEN SERVICES

Your National Account Manager acts as your chief point of contact throughout the life of the entire project, managing resources at Tallen and representing your needs, goals and objectives. By empowering the Account Manager in this way, we can create seamless continuity between your team and the Tallen team and assure that nothing slips through the cracks. Whenever there are equipment discrepancies our technical directors will travel with the appropriate equipment. Our project managers have extensive experience in operating all equipment including video, audio, lighting, etc.

Our goal is for the speakers to focus on the message they need to deliver and we focus on the technology of how to do it. At Tallen, we are committed to earning trust from our speakers and clients so they can focus on what matters, the message.

We ensure that your enduring materials (audio, video and presentation recordings) are in the format that is best for you and not tied to what technology we have locally. We ensure through our processes that the material will not require excessive conversion times afterwards into file formats that work for you. This combined with our international partnerships, detailed logistics coordinators, and our drive to exceed your expectations, breeds success.
